Exhibit A

Document ID	Description	Rational for Confidential Designation
RMC000039	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC. De-designation is not in the public interest because information kept as confidential within a business should not be disclosed to the public and RMC has taken adequate steps to protect its confidential business information from public disclosure.
RMC000300	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC.

Document ID	Description	Rational for Confidential Designation
RMC000050-71 (excluding RMC000056, RMC000063)	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC.
RMC000072-73	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC. De-designation is not in the public interest because information kept as confidential within a business should not be disclosed to the public and RMC has taken adequate steps to protect its confidential business information from public disclosure.

Document ID	Description	Rational for Confidential Designation
RMC0000179	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. De-designation is not in the public interest because information kept as confidential within a business should not be disclosed to the public and RMC has taken adequate steps to protect its confidential business information from public disclosure.
RMC000093-95	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC. De-designation is not in the public interest because information kept as confidential within a business should not be disclosed to the public and RMC has taken adequate steps to protect its confidential business information from public disclosure.

Document ID	Description	Rational for Confidential Designation
RMC000102-05	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC. De-designation is not in the public interest because information kept as confidential within a business should not be disclosed to the public and RMC has taken adequate steps to protect its confidential business information from public disclosure.
RMC000173-76	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC. De-designation is not in the public interest because information kept as confidential within a business should not be disclosed to the public and RMC has taken adequate steps to protect its confidential business information from public disclosure.

Document ID	Description	Rational for Confidential Designation
RMC000025	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC. De-designation is not in the public interest because information kept as confidential within a business should not be disclosed to the public and RMC has taken adequate steps to protect its confidential business information from public disclosure.
RMC000184-85	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC. De-designation is not in the public interest because information kept as confidential within a business should not be disclosed to the public and RMC has taken adequate steps to protect its confidential business information from public disclosure.

Document ID	Description	Rational for Confidential Designation
RMC000127-29	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC. De-designation is not in the public interest because information kept as confidential within a business should not be disclosed to the public and RMC has taken adequate steps to protect its confidential business information from public disclosure.
RMC000002-09	[redacted]	RMC has articulated a good faith basis for treating the document as confidential under the Protective Order. RMC has not waived confidentiality as confidential business data is separate from publicly available data re: RMC.